Pursuant to the Court's Pretrial Order, Naum Morgovsky respectfully proposes the following questions as additions to the Court's standard questionnaire, to which Mr. Morgovsky has no objections.

(1) Mr. Morgovsky is accused of conspiring to export arms controlled night vision devices and component parts to Russia without first obtaining a required export license as required by United States law. The government contends that the items which Mr. Morgovsky conspired to export were included in the United States Munitions List based on a determination that export of such items must be controlled and monitored through the licensing requirement. Mr. Morgovsky has pleaded not guilty and is presumed

1 innocent. Is there anything about the nature of this accusation that causes you to doubt
2 your ability to be a fair and impartial juror in this case?

3 (2) Mr. Morgovsky is a United States citizen and has lived with his wife, Irina, also a United 4 States citizen and a co-defendant in this case, in the United States for many years. Mr.
5 and Mrs. Morgovsky are charged together in this case. Mr. Morgovsky was born and 6 raised in Ukraine and has long had business and personal ties with persons and businesses
7 in Russia and in Ukraine, which borders Russia, and has a large Russian-speaking
8 population. Considering the charge in this case, that Mr. Morgovsky conspired to 9 illegally export arms controlled devices to Russia, are you confident that you can be a fair
10 and impartial juror in this case?

11 (3) What do you think about Russian people in general? Do you have any family ties with 12 Russian people? Do you have Russian friends? Do you have co-workers who are 13 Russian?

14 (4) What is your opinion about the honesty of Russian people? Do you think Russian 15 business people are a little shady, or a little corrupt? If you harbor such feelings, how 16 does that affect your ability to sit in judgment of Mr. Morgovsky?

17 (5) What is your reaction to charges that persons associated with the Russian government
18 helped “steal” the 2016 U.S. presidential election so that their preferred candidate would 19 win and become U.S president?

- 20       a. Do you think this accusation is true? Do you suspect that it is true?
21       b. Do accusations that Russia interfered in the 2016 U.S. presidential election
22           make you angry? How would these feelings affect your ability to be 23           completely impartial when weighing the evidence against Mr. Morgovsky,
24           who is accused of illegally exporting defense controlled night vision items
25           to people and/or businesses in Russia?
26       c. Being completely honest, do you think Mr. Morgovsky would have to 27           overcome these feelings on your part as you consider the evidence presented
28           against him?

1                   d. If Mr. Morgovsky exercises his constitutional right not to testify at this trial,
2                   would you be inclined to suspect that he is trying to conceal the nature and
3                   extent of his Russian contacts?

4 (6) Do you believe that the Russian government poses a threat to United States' interests in
5                   the Middle East, or anywhere else in the world? If so, how, if at all, would this belief
6                   affect your participation in this case as an impartial juror?

7 (7) Is there anything not covered in these questions that cause you to doubt your ability to sit 8                   as a juror in this case?

9 (8) From what you have been told about the nature of this case, and about Mr. Morgovsky,
10                  would you prefer not to sit as a juror?

11 (9) If you were in Mr. Morgovsky's position, would you feel satisfied with a jury composed 12                  of twelve members with your state of mind?

14 Dated:

Respectfully submitted,
